PLAN TO SEND TROOPS ACROSS BORDER TALKED

WASHINGTON CONSIDERS MOVE TO DEAL WITH BANDITS ON RIO GRANDE.

BANDITS PROTECTED BY VOLLEY

Retreat Of Those Who Killed U. S. Soldiers Covered By Fire From Brush.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 25—The possibility that American troops might cross the Rio Grande to deal with the Mexican raiders, is being talked of today.

Brownsville, Texas, Sept. 25—Army officers believed today that sufficient troops, placed at the dangerous points, will forestall any immediate repetition of yesterday's raid on Progresso when Private Stubblefield was killed and Captain Anderson and Private Kennedy of Central Lake, Mich., were wounded. Both wounded men are reported in no danger today

Mexicans Killed

Five or six Mexicans were killed. The raiders numbered about eighty and their retreat was covered by several hundred uniformed Mexicans who fired from the brush on the Mexican side. Four of the American troopers had their horses shot from under them.

Fought Off Bandits.

J. McAllen, a millionaire ranchman, and his woman cook yesterday fought off fourteen Mexican bandits in Hidalgo county. McAllen killed two of the Mexicans and wounded three.

Provoked Shooting.

It has been definitely established, say advices from Washington, that in some cases the shooting on the Mexican border has been provoked by deputy sheriffs and civilians.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 25.—One American cavalryman was killed and a captain and another private were wounded in desperate attack by an overwhelming force on Mexicans on the squad at the postoffice and store on Francisco Sachz's ranch.

The fight started before daylight and raged until nearly noon. By that time Colonel Blocksom at Fort Brown and Colonel Bullard at Harlington had rushed more than 300 cavalrymen to the neighborhood and the Mexicans suddenly stopped firing and scattered through the brush.

The dead trooper is Private Henry W. Stubblefield of Big Stone Gap, Va., and the wounded is Private Cecil W. Kennedy, of Central Lake, Michigan.

Brownsville, Tex., Sept. 25.—That from two to three hundred Carranza soldiers under shelter of a half mile of trenches covered the retreat of eighty Mexicans who attacked the village of Progresso, Tex., is reported by Mayor Edward Anderson of the Twelfth cavalry.

This constitutes what is believed here the gravest turn in the internation situation since the beginning of the border troubles.

KELLY TO LOCATE IN AMBOY

Young Attorney Will Open Law Office In That City Soon

James R. Kelley, who graduated from the Dixon college in 1913, and who received his Master Degree from the Northern Illinois College of Law under Dean James W. Watts, will open a law office in Amboy on or about the first of October. Mr. Kelley was admitted to the bar last July and for the last year he has been associated with Hon. Delos Baxter of Rochelle. Mr. Kelly is a Dixon product having spent the best part of his life in this city. He has visited most all of the cities of northern Illinois,, and after much thought decided to locate in Amboy. The members of the Lee Cousty Bar Association will be more than pleased to learn of his decision, as will his many friends throughout the county.

BOYS RECOVERING.

The Sterling boys who received slight injuries when a shotgun in the hands of Official Bird Executioneer Ruth accidentally discharged Thursday, are reported to be recovering satisfactorily.

Miss Alice A. Eddy of Ashton spent the day in Dixon.

LOWDEN STATEMENT IS CHARACTERISTIC

FRANK, HONEST TALK BY OGLE CO. CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR.

URGES SUPPORT OF SHERMAN

Col. Frank O. Lowden of Ogle county has issued the following statemnet concerning his attitude toward the governorship of the state:

"It is no secret that I have had an ambition to be governor of Illinois. Twelve years ago I was a candidate for the nomination but was defeated in the convention. During my campaign and on the stump after the heated deadlock convention, it was my good fortune to make many friends in different parts of the state, and their loyalty has more than compensated me for all the efforts I then made.

"These and other friends insist that I again become a candidate for governor, and I deeply appreciate the honor they do me.

"I came to Springfield Tuesday afternoon. Since then I have met hundreds of republicans from different parts of the state and have frankly discussed the situation with them.

"If the sentiment I have found continues I will be a candidate for governor, without pledge or promise of any kind whatsoever, and at the proper time will enter upon and conduct a vigorous campaign, of which W. H. Stead of Ottawa, former attorney general, will have entire charge. I shall welcome the support of every republican in the state, but I will not be the candidate of any faction.

"The gubernatorial primary is one year away, while the presilential primary will be held next April. Voters are more concerned at this time about the next president and what his policies will be than they are about the candidates for governor. Illinois has a candidate for president in Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman. He is entitled to the loyal support of all republicans in this state and to a solid delegation, and these he must have if he is to receive proper consideration in the national convention. His chances of success should not be imperiled at this time."

JABBED SELF WITH A SHARP ICE PICK

JAMES PENNY PAINFULLY HURT WHILE AT WORK ON ICE WAGON

James Penny, driver of the west end delivery wagon for the Dixon Distilled Water Ice Co., suffered a painful injury late Friday afternoon while out on his route. He slipped in getting off the wagon and in throwin his hand back he hit the ice pick he was carryng in his hip pocket and the point of the pick pentrated the arm to the bone just below theelbow. There was quite a flow of blood and William Harrison, who was passing at the time with his automobile, got him into the car and brought him down town to the office of a physician where the wound was dressed.

Attorney J. E. Moline Jr., of LaSalle was here today on business in the circuit court.

OTHER LIONS SNARL ENVIOUSLY AS GIRL SHARES BANQUET WITH HER PET.

[Baltimore and Miss Isla Tudor dined together in the lion house at Prospect park, Brooklyn, N. Y., while the movie cameras clicked and a half dozen beasts who hadn't been invited snarled enviously. And it wasn't etiquette, but good stout iron bars, that kept them from crowding in at the feast and probably taking a bite out of the hostess, too, as dessert. It was Miss Tudor's birthday party, and Baltimore was the guest of honor because he had been present when Miss Tudor, who is the daughter of a circus agent, was christened in a lion's cage at Coney Island twelve years ago. Baltimore, sole survivor of the troupe of twenty-nine, roared a greeting (Head Keeper John O'Brien is authority for this) when the little acquaintance of former years entered the lion house with her mother. He permitted her to pat his head, and he got the lion's share of the breakfast, which on his side of the iron lattice began with beef and ran to chicken, but he refused to partake of the birthday cake.]

ADVANCE GUARD OF G. A. R. IN CAPITAL FOR GRAND REVIEW

FORTY-NINTH ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

TO COMMEMORATE GREAT PEACE

Survivors Of Union Army Will Reproduce Scene Of Close Of War

(The Associated Press)

Washington, Sept. 25—Ablaze with patriotic color, Washington welcomes today the advance guard of the fast fading Union host coming to participate in the forty-ninth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic which begins here Monday.

Thousands of veterans already have arrived and every train brings hundreds more who fifty years ago marched under the eyes of Grant and the wake of Sherman in the greatest military review the world had ever seen.

Thirty thousand survivors of the historic march up Pennsylvania Avenue from the Capitol to the White House, which marked the close of the Civil War, are expected to be here to commemorate on Wednesday that world-thrilling spectacle. In September, 1865 President Johnson bared his head to 160,000 triumphant heroes of the Union army. President Wilson next Wednesday will greet those who remain, after half a century, to make the march again.

Extraordinary preparations have been made for the encampment because it probably will be the last Grand Army re-union in the capital. To this end plans for entertaining a hundred thousand visitors have been perfected and the event already

RUSSIANS REPULSED GERMANS

Czar's Troops Make Further Gains Against Teutons In The East.

(Associated Press)

The mobilization of Greek troops is continuing but the ultimate course the nation will take is not outlined. Unofficial circles are convinced that a struggle between Greece and Bulgaria can not be avoided, however.

Russians Successful

The latest Russian official statements confirm the reports of the recapture of the fortress Lutskud, with the Russians continuing their successes all along the southern end of the line and extend a successful resistance as far as Logischin, northwest of Pinsk, where Gen von Mackensen has met with a setback.

The recent modification of Germany's naval policy, with indicated increased care for the safety of passengers on vessels, has been followed by a change in the personel of the German naval staff.

Vice Admiral Bachman, head of the staff, and Rear Admiral Dehnicke, vice chief, who it is understood, were opposed to any modification of the naval policy, have retired. Admiral von Holtzendorff is the new chief of staff.

Pipe Organ And Two Machines In Family Theater

Popular Amusement House Will Open Under New Management Soon

The Family theatre, which was recently leased by Leonard Rarer of Chicago, will be opened next Thursday under the new management, conducted by Resident Manager Smith, who arrived in Dixon Friday. And at that time Dixon theatre patrons will be shown a marked advancement in local amusement.

A new $5,000 pipe organ is being installed in the theatre and it will be used for the first time next Thursday, and two electrically operated picture machines, which will make waits between films unnecessary, have been installed. The management plans to run four high class vaudeville acts and one feature picture every night.

WILL SET DAYS TO TRY CRIMINAL CASES

TRIAL LIST OF CRIMINAL CASES WILL BE MADE UP ON MONDAY.

HARMON DIVORCE IS GRANTED

This morning in the circuit court the case of Margaret Byrne against John Byrne of Harmon was taken up and after hearing the evidence a decree of divorce was granted the plaintiff. Arguments were also heard in the case of the Tonica Exchange Bank vs. George H. T. Shaw.

On Monday dates for trial will be set in criminal matters not yet on the trial calender. Of the seven indictments returned by the grand jury, three have been disposed of, the defendants having pleaded guilty; paid their fines. There are four cases it is expected will go to trial and these with the charge of riot against Mongoven, McCormick and Kelly of Harmon, indicted at previous term of court, will make five to be taken up during the term.

During the afternoon the argumens for a writ of mandamus asked in the name of the People ex rel. Wilbur Gatchel, Michael Perdue, Evan Watkins and Peter Fitzsimmons vs. Commissioners of Union Drainage District No. 1 of Harmon and Marion will be heard. The complainants own land on laterals No. 4 and 5 and allege the commissioners have neglected to keep the ditch cleaned out, that it has become filled with sand and stone and in places willows have grown up, that the ditch no longer carries the water backed up on their land, doing damage to their crops, and they ask that the commissioners be compelled to clean the ditch.

The appeal case of Downing & Frain vs. Nathan Morrill is also set for Monday afternoon. In this case the plaintiffs allege the defendant owes them about $150 as commission on a land deal.

FRANKLIN FARMER'S PICNIC

Big Crowd Attended Event On Camp Meeting Ground Today.

Franklin Grove, Sept. 25—Despite threatening skies the Franklin Grove camp meeting ground was the scene of a large gathering of folks of this vicinity who met today in the annual Farmers' picnic, and in every way the event was a happy one. Athletic events, music by the Franklin Grove band and the Farmers' Male quartet furnished amusement for the crowd, and this afternoon Hon. Atwood of Chicago delivered a fine address.

This morning a baseball game was played by a team of farmers living north and south of the village, the south siders winning by a score of 11 to 7.

KILLED IN SWITCH YARDS

(Special to Telegraph)

Sterling, Ill., Sept. 25—John J. Enright, brother of Thomas Enright of this city, was killed Friday afternoon in the Illinois Central yards in Chicago, where he was working as a switchman. His remains will be brought to Sterling for interment.

ENGINE CREWS NEAR DEATH IN WRECK TODAY

ENGINEER DAVIS AND FIREMAN KINNEY OF I. C. SWITCH ENGINE ESCAPE.

TRAINS CRASHED IN N. DIXON

Southbound Freight and Switch Train Collided Near the Forrest Ave. Crossing.

Engineer H. E. Davis and Fireman Timothy Kinney of the Illinois Central switch engine narrowly escaped death or very serious injury this morning at 8 o'clock when freight train No. 171 southbound, in charge of Conductor Louis Graham and Engineer Tim Stultz, both of Freeport, crashed into the switch train about 100 feet northeast of the Forrest avenue crossing.

The crews of both the switch engine, No. 459, and the big road engine, No. 1544, were more or less injured, the victims of the accident being:

H. E. Davis, Dixon, engineer on switch engine, gash cut in back of head and right leg bruised and strained.

Timothy Kinney, fireman on switch engine, bruised and scratched about legs.

Louis Graham, Freeport, conductor of freight train, ligaments of legs badly torn in jumping from train.

Timothy Stultz, Freeport, engineer of freight train, bruised about legs and back.

William Dewey, Freeport, fireman of freight train, legs bruised and scratched and slight bruises about the head.

Train Not Listed?

It is reported that the crew of the switch train, which was working in the North Dixon yards, had been furnished with a list of all southbound trains, in order that they might keep out of their way, but the list did not show regular freight No. 171.

Accordingly the switch train had pulled out on the main track when the heavy freight train, pulled by the monster mogul locomotive, rounded the curve northeast of the Forrest avenue crossing.

Could Not Stop.

Because of the weight of his train and the grade Engineer Stultz, who is a brother of Harry Stultz, Franklin Grove merchant, was unable to bring his train to a stop. Engineer Davis of the switch engine stopped his engine and string of two cars, but was unable to reverse and pull out of the way before the big freight engine crashed into his train.

Cars Telescoped.

The two cars of the switch train were telescoped, the one next to the engine being thrown into the air and forward onto the tank of the tender, jamming the tank against the boiler head, and stripping cab, seat and levers off the fireman's side of the locomotive. Both cars were badly wrecked and for a time it was feared that the wreckage would catch fire, consequently the fire department was summoned. However, the firemen were not compelled to throw any water.

The front of the road engine was also damaged considerably, the headlight and pilot being torn off. That the engine crews, especially that of the switch engine, were not more seriously hurt, is miraculous and is no doubt due to the fact that the freight train was traveling no faster than about twenty miles an hour.

DEMENTTOWN DOINGS

We note by an alleged newspaper (?) published hereabouts that Exall, J. W. Hoyle's race horse, which every one has thought was a trotter, "won the free for all pace" at Springfield yesterday. Driven Pearse must have been teaching the animal new tricks.

It's about time for late roasting ears to be ripe.

Mr. Dumba would have fared much better had he been a little dumber.

Cheer up, the frost is staying in the back ground.

Sensitive About It.

"Ah," said the visitor, "this village boasts a choral society, I understand"

"No," said the native, "we never boast of it."

Fruit of Excess.

"Pa, what grows in a beer garden?'

"The head, my son."

Like Old Friends.

At a dinner and theatre party recently given in Washington a beautiful debutante was frightened beyond measure because Senator Blank had been selected for her escort. The poor girl was almost in tears from nervousness.

"But mother," she protested, "what ever can I talk to him about?"

The mother smiled. "You'll like him, dear. Everyone does."

It was late that night when the debutante came running into her mothers boudoir a happy flush on her young cheek. "I've had a perfectly dandy time," she announced, "and I think the senator's fine. He isn't at all what I expected him to be. Why, we hadn't gone two blocks before we were talking about the fleas in Italian hotels."

ADVANCE GUARD OF G. A. R. IN CAPITAL

gives promise of rivalling inauguration ceremonies in interest and display.

Flags are flying from a thousand staffs. The Capitol, White House, and every government building are draped with the national colors. The streets of the city are radiant lanes of red, white and blue as the throngs of guests and visitors arrive. David J. Palmer, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army, and General Nelson A. Miles, retired, who will act as Grand Marshall of the commemorative review, are among the early arrivals. With them have come scores of men who took conspicuous part in the war.

Although the grand review will be the most spectacular feature of the re-union, many interesting events are on the program for the celebration which will continue until Oct. 3. The War and Navy departments have co-operated with the Citizens' Committee to aid in entertainment of the veterans. Exhibtion drills of regular troops are to be held on the Washington Monument grounds. Secretary Daniels has arranged to have submarines, torpedo boats and other small naval craft unknown in Civil War days here for inspection. There will be hydroplane and aeroplane flights and other features to illustrate the advance in warfare during fifty years.

The Capitol already has taken on the martial air that is to pervade it for the coming week. The streets are enlivened with veterans and members of organizations allied with the Grand Army which also will hold reunions. Among them are Sons of Veterans, the Loyal Legion, The Medal of Honor Legion, the Volunteer Officers' Association, the Naval Veterans, Ex-prisoners of War, the Society of the Army of the Potomac, the Society of the Army of the Cumberland, Society of the Army of the Ohio, Women's Relief Corps, Ladies of the G. A. R., and Daughters of Veterans.

Upon their arrival today the veterans discovered that the re-union this year was not to be a tented affair. Heretofore headquarters of the various Grand Army departments at annual reunions have been established in tents, but headquarters this time have been provided in the old Census bureau building which has been adequately adapted for the purpose.

The main floor has been divided into two huge auditoriums in one of which will be held business sessions of the encampment and a general reception Tuesday night to be attended by President Wilson. The other has been set aside for camp fires and naval dog-watches which will be continuous features of the reunion.

On the second floor of the structure rooms have been provided for headquarters of the various orps for the military and semi-military organizations allied with it. Rest rooms, restaurants and a hospital al so are provided.

With the veterans from many states who wore the Blue have come wearers of the Gary, especially invited for the occasion. Staff officers of the Confederate Veterans' Union were extended invitations and arrangements for their entertainment have been made. This action was taken at the suggestion of officials of the Grand Army, the meeting of the Blue and Gray on the Gettysburg Battlefield two years ago having given testimony of the amicable relationship existing between the two organizations. Invitations also have been extended to governors of all states and members of their staffs, as well as to a large number of distinguished officers of the United States, including members of the Cabinet, who will review the soldiers with the President, and members of Congress.

The commemorative review on Wednesday will start from the Peace Monument at the east entrance to the Capitol grounds and proceed up Pennsylvania Avenue through a court of honor in front of the White House. A huge reviewing stand has been erected there. Besides the veterans in line will be the Sons of Veterans, an escort of citizens and troops of the regular army, marine corps, sailors from the fleet, cadets and independent military bodies.

A REAL SNAKE STORY.

Editor— Since reading the article in a recent issue of the Telegraph relative to the harmless snake being the "farmer's friend," I concluded never to kill the snake that gave me half the road. Last Wednesday several neighbors passing where I was cutting hedge, warned me of the approach of a large blue racer on the side of the road where I was working, and with axe in hand I halted my "friend." But I decided to enforce my recent vow and went back to work.

In less than five minutes I returned to the spot and to my surprise found my friend had either been scared out of his hide or had decided to give me his summer robe in gratitude for sparing his life, as he moved away in his autumn sky-blue attire with head erect and eyes sparkling with delight at his continued liberty. I have the "silent hull," perfect pattern of the snake, with eyes and lips, measuring just five feet in length, leaving we to wonder how he could have emerged through a small slit under his neck. D. LITTLE GEOGRAPHY LESSONS—ARCHANGEL

Archangel was a summer resort for Eskimos until Russia got hard up for a seaport last summer.

It is located at the southern end of the White Sea. However, it is not very far south. No one suffers particularly from sunstroke in Archangel even in July. It is about 100 miles farther north than Nome, Alaska.

Autumn begins at Archangel shortly after the spring thaws have set in and in the winter, the man who turns off the gas light on the streets gets a two months vacation.

Archangel is a paradise in summer for the man who likes to go out with the boys, because if he comes in at sunset he doesn't get home until 3 a. m. On the other hand a man can rise at noon in the winter and still get to work at daybreak.

Because of these facts Archangel is growing rapidly and now contains over 25,000 people, and is very modern, having moving picture theatres and war extras.

Archangel got its name originally because no one ever expected to see it. However, it is now connected by railroad with the rest of Russia and since the Baltic has been infested with submarines it has become the nation's second most important seaport.

To reach Archangel by water one must take a boat in a secluded port free from German spies and travel to the North Cape. Here the warm southerly regions are left behind and the steamer works east through the Arctic Ocean, dodging icebergs at a latitude of 74 degrees until it reaches the White Sea.

At this point on the map the nearest steam heater is some hundreds of miles away and the explorer who reaches these shores goes home and writes a book about it. But the deck hand on the freight steamer full of ammunition merely draws a month's pay and signs for another trip. When an adventurer or explorer gets into trouble in an unknown region there is usually a seaman of some sort standing around ready to help him out.

The only difference between exploring and going to sea is that the seaman gets $30 a month and a kick in the face while the explorer gets $500 a night from the Chautauqua bureau and a medal from the government.

Miller Stays Among Select Hitters Of Federal League

(Associated Press)

Chicago, Sept. 25—Tyrus Cobb has established a new American league record for stolen bases. The Georgia peach has passed the previous record of 88, which was made by Milan of Washington in 1912. Cobb made his record in Wednesday's game against the Athletics, according to averages published here today. The new record is 89, but it is expected the Detroit whirlwind will increase this mark before the close of the season. The fleet footed Tiger also dethroned his teammate, Sam Crawford, from the head of the total base column, and is now leading with 261 total bases. His mark of last week—377 in batting—remains unchanged. He has made 198 hits and increased his lead as run getter to 139.

Oldring, Philadelphia, leads in home runs, with 6. Burns, Detroit, and Fournier, Chicago, are tied with each.

Several of the league leaders of last week have suffered batting slumps, while a few have been coming fast. Notably among the latter is Fournier, who jumped from eighth place to a tie with his teammate, Eddie Collins, who also climbed up the ladder a little. Each has 322. Following these, the leaders, who have played in at least half of the games, are: Speaker, Boston, 320; McInnis, Philadelphia, 316; Jackson, Chicago, 311; Veach, Detroit, 308; Crawford, Detroit, 307; Pirke, Cleveland, 303; Gainor, Boston, 297; Strunk, Philadelphia, 297.

Detroit leads in club batting with .265; Boston is second with 262 and Chicago third with 257.

A dollar was loaned by the state association to the class, as a talent to be used and returned with an additional amount. A good sum was realized when all nickels were returned. After the report and a reading by Mrs. Frye the meeting adjourned. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion. SEPTEMBER 25 1915

THE TEUTONS, THE RUSSIANS AND THE JEWS.

The semi-official German announcement that the German government is going to make the question of the oppressed Jews in Eastern Europe one of the principal points to be dealt with at the coming peace conference, created a stir among the million and a quarter Jews living in New York; 85% of New York Jews are of Russian origin and they are all interested in the fate of their oppressed brethren in the land of the Czar. The German announcement came at a time when the State Department through its consular representative in Russia made some inquiries about the position of the Jews in the war zone.

The American Jews look to the United States government as the power that will raise the Jewish question when peace is to be negotiated. While still waiting for help from the American government, they are delighted to see another great power taking up the cause of their oppressed brethren. As a matter of fact, the United States and Germany are today both equally interested in the solving of the Eastern European question.

To the United States the solving of the Eastern European question means a simplification of the immigration problem. There can be no doubt about it that should the Eastern European question not be solved until after the war is over, hundreds of thousands of these unfortunate human beings will reach the shores of this country. What such a tremendous immigration means economically, socially and politically to the American people as well as the American Jews, is easily understood. Because the United States have to deal with the immigration problem, the American Jews earnestly hope that the Washington administration will take up the cause of the Eastern European Jewry at the right moment.

But Germany today is not less interested in the question of Eastern European Jewry than the United States, because the German armies, when invading Poland and Western Russia, penetrated first into the Jewish settlement, known as the pale of settlement in Russia, and met a people that speak Yiddish, a German dialect originating from the medieval German, a language which can be understood by every German speaking man or woman.

The New York Evening Post pointed out lately that the American people would not regret a transfer of Russian territory to the Teutons, because the territory that will probably be annexed, is inhabited not by Russians, but by Jews and Poles who are badly treated by the Russians and persecuted by the Russian bureaucracy. The Russians have not shown any ability in handling the problem of foreign nationalities and therefore resorted to brutal oppression. Whatever Germany may make of this territory, there would be no more pogums, no more exceptional laws, no more yellow tickets and corrupt officialdom, because all these things are against Prussian bureaucracy and against Prussian law. The Germans will have to create normal conditions in the conquered provinces and the inhabitants of those provinces will profit by it immensely.

Germany is greatly interested in pacifying the conquered provinces, because should the economic and political war, waged by the Poles against the Jews continue, in the long run the Polish Jews will either have to leave the country or they will have to be polonized. But the Jews in Poland as German speaking people are of enormous value to the German conqueror as a mediator between the Germans and the Slavs. Besides, it cannot be in the interest of Germany that Poland should become a purely Slavonic state. In order to prevent such a possibility Germany will have to look more closely after the rights of the Jews in Poland and will have to see to it that the Jews as a people preserve their national character and integrity.

Should Poland be annexed or become a sphere of German influence, whilst the Jews remain still oppressed by the Poles, a great number of these Jews, who are unable to go to America, will try to settle in Germany. But Germany is overpopulated and has no room for immigration.

All these reasons, so Jewish leaders in New York say, will induce Germany to take up the Jewish cause when terms of peace are to be discussed. Many of the influential Jewish leaders of New York go even so far as to admit the possibility of co-operation in the Jewish question between Germany and the United States. But whether this is a sound suppositon or only guess work, one thing is sure, viz.: Boht governments are highly interested in the Jewish question and the probability exists that they will both separately and independently try to tackle this problem at the coming peace conference.

A RATHER SOLID "SPECTRE."

A headline in a Bull Moose paper says "Bull Moose Looms Up as Spectre to Republicans," and then you read down the story to learn of the awful sight that must have greeted the terror-stricken eyes and struck deathly chill into the hearts of the members of the Poor Old Republican Party and you find that the "Spectre" is composed entirely and only of "Jud" T. Williams, a farmer living near Sterling, Illinois. Some spectre! It is true that Jud may have been at Springfield at the fair and if he was able he loomed up because that's the kind of fellow Jud is. He looms up wherever he is, because of his extraordinary displacement, for Jud is considerable chunk of a man. He is a good fellow, too, and his influence counts for something over in his neighborhood, but his township or his county can't elect a governor. The article says the Moosers will vote the Democratic ticket. The former Mooser will vote the G. O. P. ticket from now on as long as the party nominates the right kind of men (and they shouldn't do it if they don't) and no one of them will vote the democratic ticket unless he is disgruntled, sore, or has been given plainly to understand that he is not wanted in the Republican party. There are a few Moosers, or rather ex-Moosers, who know they have no place in the Republican party; a few leaders who tried to break into the Republican party and did not receive a very hearty welcome; who ran for office on the Bull Moose ticket and received a humiliating "trimming" by the Republicans, who are doubtless vindictive enough to vote the democratic ticket in the belief that thye are thereby torpedoing the ship of stafe and calling desolation upon the land for the cold treatment of the voters—but what if they do? There is nothing left of the Bull Moose army but the leaders. Even the Commander-in-Chief is allowing himself to be spoken of as a candidate for the G. O. P. presidential nomination. Let it be known that these surviving Bull Moose generals intend to vote the democratic ticket, if that is their intent. The democrats will need that slender ray of hope to cheer them on their weary way

CURRENT COMMENT

Minneapolis Journal: It is our duty to struggle against the resolution to chaos of all that has been won against unrestrained war in a thousand years of struggle, and to omit no word or act which may keep the the record straight, and uphold the rights of the arts of peace as against the arts of war.

Peoria Transcript: There is no sentiment in the hard roads propaganda. It is a cold business proposition, and because it's a business proposition, friends of the movement are solicitous that it be divorced from politics, sectionalism and special interests.

Winchester Times: There is, perhaps, not a farm but has some distinguishing features on it that may easily suggest an appropriate name by which the farm may be nown. Certainly if for sentimental reasons only, it is good to have a farm name.

URIC ACID IN MEAT CLOGS THE KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you—Drink more water.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three time during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive: cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

GOLF HAS BECOME VERY POPULAR GAME

HAS HAD PHENOMENAL GROWTH DESPITE AN UNTOWARD SEASON.

ILLINOIS LEADS IN THE WEST

(Assocaited Press)

Chicago, Sept. 26—Golf during the season of 1915 kept up its phenomenal growth despite an untoward season according to statistics compiled since the close of the important tournaments of the year. New private and public courses for the Scotch game, in which America now holds first rank as to number of players, were opened for use throughout Illinois, which, owing to the prevalence of golfers in Chicago, is the leading golf state west of New York.

In the metropolitan radius field, comprising an area within a 50 mile radius of Chicago's business center, there are more than 60 golf links, comprising a membership of 6000 persons. In addition there are 6 public links in Chicago parks, where there is no charge for playing, and a semi-public course, where a small fee is made for each day's sport.

Some of the golf links in the Chicago field are in the northwest corner of Indiana and a number lie in Michigan, across the lake, in the Michigan resort region. Many summer hotels have golf links for the amusement of guests and at least one Michigan farmer has installed a course in a rolling meadow to attract summer boarders who cannot get along without golf while rusticating.

A sample of how popular the game of golf has become, although a rich man's game when introduced to America barely a score of years ago, was shown by the number who played over the public links in Chicago this summer. Every day, rain or shine, some 600 men, women and children played over the 15 hole course in Jackson park, starting at sunrise and finishnig at dark. Other links played a 9 hole links in the same park while the Garfield park course on the west side was equally congested. A new 18 hole links in Marquette park and two new courses in Warren Wood park and Lincoln park were crowded despite their unfinished condition.

OPEN SEASON SOON.

The prairie chicken season will open October 1 for fifteen days, and it is needless to say that local nimrods will be busy during these two weeks.

Agreement Reached.

The king and premier of Greece have reached a complete agreement on the country's course which includes the maintenance of Greece's treaty obligations.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Bulgaria's mobilization merely places her in "an attitude of armed defense against possible attack" and does not mean an unfriendly spirit toward her neighbors, according to a cablegram to the Bulgarian Minister here from his government. The position of Bulgaria was declared to be similar to that of Holland, Denmark and Switzerland.

London, Sept. 25.—Before another day has passed the flame of war may have seared the Balkan nations again.

With the Bulgarian army massed on one border of Serbia and 800,000 Austro-Germans ready to strike on another, Greece and Roumania, the last of the Balkan states to become infected with the war fever, are making preparations to enter the conflict.

The menace of Bulgaria's mobilization was met by Greece with a royal decree calling twenty classes of troops to the colors, and before the ink was dry on the king's signature troop trains were moving and Minister of War Danglis had issued an order calling out all the Greek reservists.

Simultaneously the Roumanian cabinet was called into hasty conference with King Ferdinand in circumstances that leave no doubt that the meeting will be followed by a mobilization order.

Army Numbers 500,000.

The Greek army numbers from 300,000 to 500,000 men, and the navy consists of five battleships, a battle cruiser, an armored cruiser, a cruiser, ten gunboats, fifteen destroyers, thirteen torpedo boats and three submarines, all of which are also affected by the King's mobilization decree.

Deputies to Meet.

The chamber of deputies is meeting today and will vote for funds for the military establishment. Many members had already been notified that parliament would soon be reconvened and had already arrived.

If Greece is forced into the war, King Constantine is expected to take the field. The King was in command of the main Greek army that participated in both Balkan wars.

Balkan Envoys Visit Grey.

London, Sept. 25.—The Greek, Roumania and Serbian ministers successively visited Sir Edward Grey at the foreign office. The Greek minister formally communicated to the secretary of state for foreign affairs the telegram from his government announcing that in view of the mobilization of Bulgaria, the Hellenic government considers it a measure of elementary prudence to order a general mobilization of the Hellenic naval and military forces.

PERJURY CHARGES IN INDIANAPOLIS TRIAL

Prosecutor Runs Against Contradictions in Mayors Case.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 25.—Perjury charges may be filed against witnesses for the state in the trial of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, who are "backing down" on evidence said to have been given before the Marion County grand jury that returned the indictment.

Deputy Prosecutor Roach intimates that an attempt may be made to make an example of Harry Farber, saloonkeeper. Farber testified that he gave William Kissel, who has the city mule contract, $25 for the campaign. He gave negative answers, however, when Prosecutor Rucker asked whether Kissel didn't tell him he "had better make the contribution" that "it would be the best thing to pay," that it "would be the best thing to stand with the administration" and that "if you don't pay the police will lay on you."

Rucker intimated that before the grand jury Farber answered "yes" to all those questions.

Orville Bryan of Palmyra was a visitor in town today.

The other pictures are a Beauty comedy entitled "Green Apples" with Webster Campbell and Neva Gerber in the leading roles, a country comedy, and a Thanhouser drama entitled "The Mother of Her Dreams," a touching play of a little orphan longing for a real home.

Preston Sellers, who recently resigned his position as pianist at the Family theatre, has accepted a position as pipe organist and pianist at the Easterly theatre in Chicago. The theatre is located on the North Side and was opened but a few weeks ago and is one of the most modern vaudeville and picture houses in Chicago, being one of the Hamberger circuit of playhouses. Mr. Sellers' playing was a feature of the Family and he will be greatly missed by the patrons.

POLLYANNA PROFFERS SODOM AND GOMORRAH TO AUNT POLLY IN ACT I.

POLLYANNA, THE GLAD GIRL, IS NOW A FOOTLIGHT FIGURE

Interesting Outcome of Making Eleanor H. Porter's Cheer-Up Story into a Play – All Indications Are That It Is a Popular Success in Chicago at Present.

It is nobody's secret that the big play-producers of both the United States and England keep a close watch on the output of those book-publishers who go in for fiction. This has been the case for at least fifteen years, or ever since in the so-called "romantic revival" of the late '90s a number of large theatrical fortunes were made with plays which were simply crude dramatizations of popular novels.

Sometimes, the stage-rights in new stories by well-known writers are contracted for before the book reaches print. It is no trick at all for a novelist of reputation to get an advance-payment of $1,000 on an option on the dramatic rights of a forthcoming story.

George C. Tyler, as the executive of the Liebler Co., has, from the start of his career as a producer, been in close touch with the output of both English and American fiction. And no wonder! He produced, in 1898, a play made by Hall Caine from the latter's own story, "The Christian"; and that play's net earnings in four years were in excess of $500,000. Klaw & Erlanger were the Liebler Co.'s silent partners in "The Christian.

Later, Mr. Tyler produced successful plays made from the following stories, among others: "In the Palace of the King," "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage-Patch," "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," "Salomy Jane," "The Eternal City," "In the Bishop's Carriage," O. Henry's "A Retrieved Reformation," Joseph Medill Patterson's "A Little Brother of the Rich," Richard Harding Davis' "Vera the Medium," and, biggest of all, "The Garden of Allah." He has been a consistent believer in the so-called "book-play."

So, for that matter, and with equally-good reason, have been Klaw & Erlanger, the heads of the "show business" in the United States. The greatest monetary success the theatre has ever known in all the history of drama has been their dramatic version of Gen. Lew Wallace's "Ben-Hur," produced by them in 1899. They place a figure of $1,000,000 on the sheer value of the stage-rights of "Ben-Hur" today.

"Pollyanna" Seemed Baffling.

Just about two years ago, Eleanor H. Porter of Cambridge, Mass., put on the market a book of her own writing called "Pollyanna." Her publishers, following a routine, sent copies of the story to all the big producing-firms, with a suggestion that the story might contain the elements of a play. The producers were not in agreement with the publishers; and nothing was done in the matter of the stage-rights. The truth was that "Pollyanna," as a book, did not seem to be good material for the theatre, inasmuch as it was written about an idea, and a spiritual idea, at that.

However, "Pollyanna" sold and sold and sold. Then, one day, Mr. Tyler picked up the story, read it through carefully, and within twenty-four hours closed a deal for the stage-rights with the publishers and author. His argument was this:

"A book which sells into the hundreds of thousands within a half-year must contain something which the public desires. True, that might be said of the telephone-directory; but my point is that the underlying idea of 'Pollyanna' is appealing; and I'm willing to risk the investment in an experiment to get the character of the Glad Girl on the stage."

Nothing was done then save to call in Mrs. Catherine Chisholm Cushing, who had been turning out some successful plays, and ask her if she cared to undertake the work of footlighting "Pollyanna." She read the novel, re-read it, said it would be a task of no small difficulty, but that she would like the commission.

When, a year ago, in Chicago, Mr. Tyler announced that a play made from "Pollyanna" figured in his season's plans, there was general derision, the derisers holding that the spirit of "Pollyanna" would elude the playwright; that is, that the note could not be caught and utilized for stage-purposes. He went right ahead, however, until December, when it became necessary, for reasons which do not call for explanation here, to disband the Liebler Co. Up to that time, "Pollyanna" had not even been placed in rehearsal.

Finding that he would be unable to carry out his contract to produce the play in the season of 1914-15, Mr. Tyler surrendered his option, forfeiting what he had paid down; but he was able, as a matter of good-will, to have the stage-rights in the story made over to Klaw & Erlanger, who took them on the Tyler recommendation that the book would surely make into a play of unusual popular appeal.

Now "Pollyanna" Is a Play.

It was decided not to produce the play from "Pollyanna" last season, but to hold it for the opening of the season of 1915-16, in the belief that a better cast might thereby be obtained. This proved to be the case. For the uncommonly-difficult part of Pollyanna, herself, they engaged Miss Patricia Collinge. The difficulty in the part of Pollyanna lies in the fact that, as Mrs. Cushing has dramatized the story, the girl is twelve years old in Acts I, II and III, while she is seventeen years old in Act IV. Now, young actresses capable of playing the Pollyanna of both divisions of the play are not numerous; and Miss Collinge, after all the candidates for the part had been given a hearing, impressed the producers as the only one capable of creating an illusion as both the "kid" and the "finished" young lady of the final act.

Mr. Tyler, meanwhile, had become an associate of Klaw & Erlanger for the production of certain plays and for the American tours of Miss Laurette Taylor, who is soon to return from London, and George Arliss. "Pollyanna" was among the plays put over into what may be termed the "Tyler section" of the Klaw & Erlanger enterprise.

What a Book Can Do For a Play.

"Pollyanna," as a comedy in four acts, was at length produced on August 23 in Detroit. The capital cast drew a big first-night audience, although the theatrical season in Detroit is not generally regarded as open until about the second Monday in September of each year. After the first performance, "Pollyanna," as a play, was taken care of by its loving friends, the readers of the novel. They flocked to every performance of the week; and, although Detroit is regarded as only a one-week stand, serious consideration was given by all concerned to the proposition to keep "Pollyanna" there for a second week.

But arrangements had been made for its installation in the Blackstone theatre, Chicago, on August 30, for a run; and it was decided, despite the temptation to get the record of making Detroit into a two-weeks' stand, to hold to the original schedule. The Detroit story was repeated—the fine cast drew a fashionable and brilliant first-night gathering, and then the "Pollyanna" fans took possession, and have ever since been in the majority in the audiences. There is every reason to think that "Pollyanna," the play, will run until the holidays in Chicago. That was the prediction made by the critic of the Chicago Tribune, Percy Hammond, a writer on the drama who seldom goes in for prophecy.

Some Distinguished Players.

Of the cast given to the play—and it is generally admitted that Mrs. Cushing's dramatization is a brilliant example of how this sort of thing should be done—it has been called perfect by the critics. Little Miss Collinge, who plays Pollyanna, was the sole stranger to Chicago. She has been a Broadway leading-woman for three years; but it has so happened that her two previous visits to Chicago had been made in plays of no especial critical interest. One was a minor musical comedy, in which she was in support of a big star, Sam Bernard; the other was in the return-engagement of "Everywoman."

Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effie Shannon are of the cast now giving "Pollyanna" in the Blackstone, Chicago. So, also, is Philip Merivale, the fine English comedian, brought to this country last season by Mrs. Patrick Campbell as her chief associate in George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion." Miss Shannon plays Miss Polly Harrington; Mr. Kelcey is Dr. Chilton; Mr. Merivale is John Pendleton, "The Hermit." Miss Jessie Busley, the best dramatic soubrette in America, is the Nancy; the three gossips of the Ladies' Aid Society (the "Ladies' Aiders," as Pollyanna calls them) are acted to the life by Miss Maude Granger, Miss Maud Hosford and Miss Helen Wethersby. Jimmy Bean, the orphan, is played in the early scenes as twelve years old by Bobby Tobin, of the Tobin group of child actors, and in the final act by Lorin Raker, a young comedian who is a protege of William Allen White.

This is the story of how a novel, "Pollyanna," written on a theme of self-help and the value of the cheer-up gospel in daily life, has been, despite pessimistic predictions, made into a play that is entirely successful in its appeal to Chicago, with its 2,500,000 population.

The Milkman's Standard.

Those who estimate their own worth by self-made measures often are chagrined to find how others, not so appreciative, measure them. An instance occurred the other day in a large office downtown. In this office many men are away on their vacations and those left behind either had their turns at country or seashore resorts or are contemplating the same.

Now it happens that a milkman daily brings his wares to those in the office who have a fondness for the lacteal fluid. His trade with the men is of surprising volume—or rather, measure. But since so many are on vacations, it has fallen off a bit of late.

"Has vacation time affected your business up here?" asked one busy man the other morning.

"Well, you'd be surprised, sir; but almost five gallons of my customers are away this week," innocently replied the milkman.

Kaiser Goes in for Making Bricks.

On the private estate of Emperor William at Cadinen, Germany, a brick kiln has been put in operation, and immense quantities of bricks are being manufactured to aid in the building up of the devastated regions of East Prussia. Long trains, laden with building materials donated by the kaiser, are being forwarded daily.

Ira Compton, Henry Bremer and Orien Coltrim left on the morning train for Washington, D. C., to attend the national reunion of the G. A. R.

FARMERS TO TALK TO FARM BANKERS

Practical Agriculturists to Discuss Farm Credits at National Convention.

AT ST. LOUIS V. P. WEEK

Farm Mortgage Bankers' Meeting to Be Followed by Another National Gathering, That of American Meat Packers' Association.

Practical farmers—actual tillers of the soil—representing widely different agricultural sections of the United States will discuss rural credits at the second annual convention of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association of America, which will be held at the Planters' Hotel, St. Louis, October 7 and 8, and which is regarded as one of the events of Veiled Prophet Week.

The particular needs, as to credits, of each section of the country are expected to be brought out in the course of these addresses, which will begin shortly after the convention is called to order by the association's president, F. W. Thompson of Chicago, manager of the farm loan department of the Merchants Loan and Trust Company of that city.

"What the Farmer Needs" will be the subject of a talk by Henry Wallace of Des Moines, Iowa, the world-famed editor of Wallaces' Farmer. In connection with the announcement that Mr. Wallace will be among the speakers, the chairman of the Convention and Entertainment Committee, C. G. Cobb, manager of the investment department of the American Trust Company of St. Louis, says:

"The farm editor is the farmer's 'next friend,' and what Mr. Wallace will have to say on the subject of rural credits and its relation to farm life will be highly instructive and entertaining."

Set Speeches to Be Few.

Levering Moore, active vice-president of the Mortgage Securities Company of New Orleans, is chairman of the Program Committee, which announces that in formulating the program it has tried to "get away from the usual practice of having a large number of set speeches" and adds: "It is believed more benefit is derived where any and all who have well-conceived ideas on rural credit or the betterment of farm mortgage banking are given an opportunity to join in the discussions."

The second annual dinner of the association will be held in the banquet hall of the Planters' Hotel on the evening of October 7. Men of national prominence will speak on subjects more or less pertinent to farm mortgage banking.

The morning session of October 8, the second day, will be devoted to the regular routine business of the association and the afternoon will be fully taken up with further addresses and discussions to be participated in by all delegates present.

Fun to Follow Work.

Mr. Cobb's committee has arranged for the evening of October 8 a smoker, at which the delegates may relax, following their two days' hard work. The smoker will be at the beautiful Sunset Inn, whither the delegates will be escorted in automobiles.

Saturday those delegates who can be induced to stay over will be entertained at the St. Louis Agricultural Fair and the St. Louis Automobile Show and, if time permits, at Shaw's Garden, the Jefferson Memorial (home of the Missouri Historical Society) and the City Art Museum, all of which institutions will celebrate Veiled Prophet Week by making special displays. Sunday afternoon the visiting bankers still in the city may attend the Mississippi River Carnival, including a parade of more than 200 decorated motor boats and races by speed boats and barges.

According to H. M. Hanson of Chicago, secretary-treasurer of the association, the convention will be attended by good-sized delegations from 17 states—Missouri, Illinois, Oklahoma, Kansas, Iowa, Georgia, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Texas, Montana, Washington, Tennessee, Nebraska, Indiana, Louisiana and New York.

What Association Aims to Do.

The purposes of the Farm Mortgage Bankers' Association of America are set forth in a statement issued by Secretary-Treasurer Hanson as follows:

1. To encourage intelligent state and national legislation as it affects farm mortgage banking.
2. To collect and give out correct information to the public regarding farm mortgage investments.
3. To assist the public in discriminating between securities that are entitled to consideration and confidence and those that are not.
4. To assist in eliminating from the business those farm mortgage dealers whose methods do not entitle them to the confidence of the people.
5. To educate the public to the advantages of the high-class farm mortgage as a good, safe investment for the small investor as well as for the investor who has large amounts under his control for investment.

"By the persistent efforts of the members, individually and as an association, the strength of a first mortgage on an improved farm as security for the safe investment of funds has been firmly established," said Chairman Cobb in discussing plans for the convention.

The association has two St. Louis members, that beside the American Trust Company being the Mississippi Valley Trust Company.

Another national convention, that of the American Meat Packers' Association, will be held in St. Louis, commencing Monday, October 11, the day after the conclusion of the St. Louis Fall Festivities. Delegates to that convention, as well as to the farm mortgage bankers' convention, are being invited to arrive in the city sufficiently early to witness the Veiled Prophet Pageant of 22 electric floats, the night of October 5. The Veiled Prophet is spending on the 1915 pageant, and the ball following it, between $50,000 and $60,000.

City Clerk Blake Grover and wife arrived home last evening from several days' stay in Wilmette, Ill., at the Frank Harned home.

DANGERS REAL AND FANCIED.

The average woman will scream with terror at the sight of an innocent little mouse, and then complacently sit down and suffer in silence with diseases that are destroying her youth,her beauty, her very life. She will uncomplainingly resign herself to the woes and miseries of female troubles, which are to be dreaded a thousand times more than a tiny mouse. It is gratifying to know that untold numbers of women are being restored to perfect vigor and strength by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It cures all uterine disorders. The exact name of the disease doesn't amount to a row of pins. If it is in the womanly organs, "Favorite Prescription" will hunt it out and cure it. It can be a drain, a pain, an inflammation, an irregularity or a weakness, and this medicine will act directly upon it, and restore the organs to perfectly healthy action. It prepares the girl to become a woman, the wife to become a mother, the middle-aged to pass the "turn of life" in safety. It is not a "cure-all" but a medicine for women only, and is the prescription of Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., the world-famed specialist in the treatment of disorders of women. Any reader of this paper may consult Dr. Pierce free by mail.

A DIFFERENT WOMAN.

450,000 ARMENIANS ARE PUT TO DEATH

Annals of Other Turk Atrocities Offer No Parallel.

New York, Sept. 25.—Dr. M. Dr. Gabriel, in making public the letters, said that from information contained in them and from other reports he had received directly, he estimated that 450,000 Armenians had been put to death or exiled, out of a population of 1,500,000.

"It is nothing more or less than the annihilation of the whole people," declares Dr. Gabriel.

The pleasant part of the chilly Autumn evenings is the enjoyment and comfort of your fire-place—and no fire-place is quite complete without a pair of ANDIRONS. We are showing a variety—all of which are reproductions of old-time shapes of artistic merit. They cost from $3.25 to $5.00 a pair.

We also show Coal Grates for fire places which may be set directly on the hearth or laid across the Andirons.
